MID-YEAR RATINGS: NINE THE CLEAR WINNER

At the conclusion of Week 20, the Nine Network leads the way for 2004 following an outstanding performance in the first half of the year, leaving it undefeated at the mid-way mark of official ratings.

With a clean sweep of all 20 weeks of official ratings (Weeks 7-28 excluding Easter) across the National (five capital cities), East Coast and key Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane markets, Nine reaffirmed its status as Australia's number one television network.

Nationally, Nine has won all 20 weeks of official ratings in 2004 (Weeks 7-28 excluding Easter).

Nine has won 121 survey days, almost 11 times more than Ten with 12 days. Seven has won only five days so far this year.

At the mid-year point, Nine dominates in All People (6pm to midnight) and the key 25-54 and 16-39 demographics.

Nationally, Nine has a 30.8 per cent share of All People (6pm to midnight), 6.8 points ahead of Seven with 24.0, with Ten following closely behind on 23.6.

In the 25-54 demographic, Nine is up 0.3 points on 2003 to 33.1 per cent, 7.4 points ahead of Ten (25.7). Seven is in third place with 24.3 (a decrease of 1.2 per cent).

Nine is also first in the 16-39 demographic (6pm to midnight). Nationally, Nine is leading with a 31.7 per cent share (up 0.3 on 2003), clearly ahead of both Ten (30.9, down 0.8) and Seven (25.7, up 0.8).

Nine's Director of Sales, Vance Lothringer, said: "This is great news for Nine and selfishly it is even better for the network's sales team as we are up in the key demos and as a result our advertisers are happy."

Nationally, Nine captured the Top 13 most watched programs (February 8 to July 10 excluding Easter) and 16 of the Top 20. Seven and Ten managed only two programs in the overall Top 20.

The most watched program of the year to date was the 46th Annual TV Week Logie Awards, which attracted an average of 2,273,912 viewers in April.

Nine had 16 of the Top 20 regular programs, with CSI: Crime Scene Investigation (1,913,828) the most watched regular program on Australian television.
